Kurubarahalli Sy. No. 4 and Alanahalli Sy. No. 41 'B-Kharab' Land

"Order must come from Revenue Secy. to delete B-Kharab," says DC

Mysuru, Oct. 1 - The reports published in Star of Mysore dated Sept. 25, 2018 about a letter from the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) [No. CM/52430/ REP-4EM/2018 dated Sept. 17, 2018] directing the MUDA Commissioner to take further action in respect of the previous Siddharamaiah Government's Cabinet decision to exclude Layouts namely Siddarthanagar under Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4 and Alanahalli, K.C. Nagar and J.C. Nagar under Alanahalli Survey No. 41 developed by CITB and MUDA from 'B-Kharab' classification has no validity to act on, according to Deputy Commissioner (DC) Abhiram G. Sankar.

This was disclosed by the DC himself last evening when Star of Mysore Editor-in-Chief K.B. Ganapathy spoke to him in this regard. Earlier, when Ganapathy spoke to District In-charge Minister G.T. Devegowda urging him to expedite the process of excluding the 'B-Kharab' status of those CITB and MUDA-developed Layouts mentioned above, following the letter from the CMO to the MUDA Commissioner, Minister G.T. Devegowda said that since the DC was with him, he (Ganapathy) should speak to him directly and get clarification.

Accordingly, when Ganapathy spoke to the DC, the clear picture emerged. The DC said that if the Cabinet had taken a decision in this regard, then to implement the decision, he must get the orders from the Revenue Secretary and only then he could implement the order.

Thereafter, Ganapathy requested the District Minister to speak to the Revenue Minister and also the concerned Secretary to speed up the process and give relief to thousands of people in these Layouts who have been suffering since last four years unable to get any documents from the MCC or the MUDA to deal with their properties as they wanted.

It may be mentioned that as a result of the sudden declaration of all these CITB and MUDA developed Layouts as 'B-Kharab' by the then DC C. Shikha, the site owners in these Layouts were unable to get Khata transferred to their names and also to either sell, mortgage or get building plans sanctioned to construct houses and buildings.

After much protests by the residents and representations to the then Chief Minister, Siddharamaiah's Government took a Cabinet decision to exclude these Layouts from the 'B-Kharab' category. Because the decision was taken towards the end of Siddharamaiah's term as the Chief Minister, the follow-up action from the Revenue Department could not be taken due to the impending May 2018 Assembly elections.

However, even after the election, the follow-up action could not be taken due to the delay in the formation of the Coalition Government. But, when Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy was in Mysuru in August 2018, the residents once again went in a delegation to him and presented a memorandum when he visited Suttur Mutt here. The letter from the CMO dated Sept. 17, 2018 was in response to this representation, but to a wrong person.

It was in this context DC Abhiram G. Sankar had given the clarification to Star of Mysore last evening as mentioned above.

Some residents have shared their surprise the way CMO responded to the residents' memorandum saying, "If only the Chief Minister's Deputy Secretary Arun Furtado, with all his experience in Government service, had written that letter to the Secretary of the Revenue Department instead to the MUDA Commissioner, probably, the long-suffering of these hapless residents would have come to an end by now."

The residents hope that District Minister G.T. Devegowda would follow the case and the DC would finally implement the order and give relief to the residents.

GTD holds KDP meeting at ZP

Mysuru, Oct.1 (US&RK)- District In-charge Minister G.T. Devegowda chaired the quarterly progress review meeting under the Karnataka Development Programme (KDP) at Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Office here this morning.

Taking on Agriculture Joint Director Dr. Mahantheshappa, who claimed that the district had received good rains, GTD asked the Officer to be more realistic as a few parts of the district had received scanty rainfall.

Sex (scandals) stump spirituality

The air across the country as well as many regions around the world is abuzz with media reports featuring individuals and institutions indulging in scandalously sexual acts. Sex related issues have got elevated or downgraded as their cases may be for two distinct reasons. Sex-driven crimes of various descriptions by common people are for grabs by reporters of dailies and law-keeping staff of governments, resulting in routine reports that even avid readers of newspapers give a cursory read and forget after exchanging their dismay in circles of urban chatterati. As if to eclipse this class of mortals who yield to temptations, the fast emerging flock of heads of their respective nations, heavy-weights in their political world, tycoons who command enormous wealth, academics of standing in society, bureaucrats in key posts, Ministers and not to forget pontiffs heading their spiritual institutions with large following are making news, virtually arousing the people feeling aghast at the extent of sex stumping spirituality, scandalously or otherwise.

The prescription attributed to the land's ancient philosophers and social reformers, calling upon people to exercise control over the senses, particularly anger and passion, continues to be drilled into the ears of audiences at the discourses delivered by seasoned speakers even to this day. The extent to which society has responded is fully reflected by the acts of people at large as well as those count in society is there for all to see.

The fact, as reported in the dailies, that scandalous sexy acts of even those wearing the badge of spirituality cuts across virtually all religions, should make one sit up and ponder over the goings on and bestow some thought on finding answers to why of the matter. Biologists may have the simple answer that hormones such as testosterone and progesterone regulate physiology and behaviour of males and females (towards one another). But, social psychologists are sure to come out with many postulates to either enlighten or confuse lay people, who are lost in their own limited understanding of the various issues triggered by the sex factor.

Readers of dailies carrying reports of sex scandals across the land are now served with similar happenings abroad. Interestingly, Pope has just been quoted acknowledging this week that sex abuse scandals rocking the Catholic Church were driving people away. He also called for change in the ways of Church to protect future generations. In a contrast of sorts, the scenario in India is marked by continued scandals, Police complaints, arrests of suspects, Court proceedings...

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

All Indian drivers, of all automated vehicles, are big toots, literally. And the louder they can toot their horns the big tootier they feel. In India, a vehicle's horn is not considered an accessory to be used sparingly and only as an auditory warning to avoid accidents. Indian drivers have to navigate elaborately designed obstacle courses thinly disguised as roads, complete with cavernous potholes, periodic monsoon floods, pedestrians, stray cows, dogs, sundry other animal species, and assorted vehicular traffic ranging from bullock carts to BMWs, much of it going the wrong way. The proposal to put a cap on the decibel levels of horns is being viewed by all those who drive in India as a devious ploy – possibly backed by Pakistan's ISI – to paralyse vehicular movement and bring the country to a total standstill. Fearing that a less-horn India is only the prelude to a horn-less India, drivers nationwide are planning a token Bharat Bandh to forewarn of a permanently de-horned Bharat Banned. — Jug Suraiya in The Times of India.

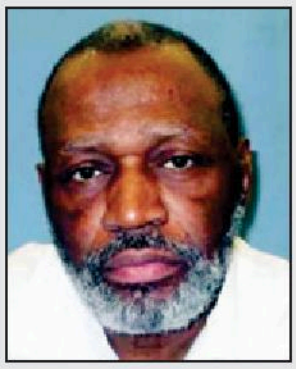
Teen reportedly laying eggs for over two years

Gowa: Akmal, a 14-year-old boy from Gowa, in Indonesia, claims that he has laid 20 eggs in the last two years, with the last two popping out at the hospital, in front of doctors.

Akmal has reportedly been hospitalised several times for his bizarre condition over the past couple of years. During his latest trip to the hospital, the boy allegedly laid two eggs in front of the baffled medical staff treating him. Doctors maintain that it is impossible for eggs to form inside the human body, and suspect that the boy has either been swallowing them whole or pushing them up his backside. An X-ray revealed a large egg high up the boy's rectum.

A spokesperson for the hospital said that doctors believe the eggs were deliberately shoved into Akmal's rectum, but since they can't prove it, they decided to quarantine the boy to see if this truly is some sort of medical oddity.

Convict cannot remember his crime



New York: A convict has been on death row for over three decades and was supposed to be executed in 2016. But after a series of strokes allegedly wiped out his memories of fatally shooting a Police officer, his lawyers have been trying to suspend his death sentence. The US Supreme Court will now have to decide if it is lawful to execute a murderer who does not remember his crime.

Shortly before the sentence could be carried out, 67-year-old Madison's lawyers argued that he had suffered neurological damage and could no longer remember his crime. A previous Supreme Court ruling stated that mentally incompetent prisoners cannot be executed. So Vernon Madison's execution has been postponed several times.

Destruction at sources of Cauvery: Time to take suitable steps to conserve water

Sir,

This year KRS Dam has filled to the brim, and quite early too. Mysureans are seen using water luxuriously inside and all round their houses. We are accustomed to be callous in this area any way!

However, it is right time to take suitable steps to conserve water. Heavy rains have resulted in devastating floods and landslides in Kodagu, the birth place of River Cauvery [SOM dated 17.9.2018]. The extent of destruction is yet to be assessed properly. However, badly affected areas in Kodagu are already finding that the underground water table has slipped deeply, the sources of Cauvery and its tributaries have dried out and the normal course of flow have been obstructed by huge landslides, thereby leading to change in the direction of river's flow. This is a frightening scenario and a very serious warning to entire Cauvery Basin areas. More so to Mysuru and Bengaluru which are fully dependent on Cauvery water.

Therefore, when KRS Dam is full, it is right time to ring warning bell to people in Mysuru and Bengaluru that some summer, we may have severe water scarcity. MCC and other authorities concerned should immediately take necessary steps to conserve water in a manner that supply can be controlled till next rainy season. They have to take steps to see that there is no wastage in pumping and distribution system. Also ensure that the public uses water judiciously.

It is time that Government takes Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW) away from the control of MCC and hands it over to an autonomous body like in Bengaluru. This alone will ensure that water supply is maintained scientifically and does not become a political tool.

Water rates have to be revised to make water prices deterrent enough for people not to waste water. The way river bed sand has been handled is an example in this regard. After all, water is more precious a nature's gift than sand. And, therefore, needs scientific pricing. VVWW should ensure that all houses are metered and water cess is collected.

At present water supply to Mysuru is from the outflow of KRS Dam. It has several limitations. First, it depends on courtesy, Irrigation Department. Second, on natural flow of water coming out of KRS. During low storage at the Dam this flow becomes extremely scanty and leads to inadequate water for pumping. Only solution for this problem is to pick up water from the backwaters of the Dam. And for this to happen, Government should immediately take up Hale Unduwadi water supply project. Since under this works water will be picked up from the backwaters of KRS, this project will ensure year round water supply to Mysuru.

MLA Ramdas urges for audit of water supplied to city

Writes to CM; Inspects Water Pumping Stations at Melapura, Purification Plants at Devanur & Rammanahalli and Reservoir at German Press premises

Mysuru, Oct.1 (MTY&KS)- There is a scam going on pertaining to the supply of drinking water to the city from various pumping stations and I have written a letter to the CM asking him for an audit of the same, said MLA Ramdas.

He was speaking to press persons after inspecting the drinking water pumping stations at Melapura, water purification plants at Devanur and Rammanahalli and water reservoir at German Press premises on Saturday.

He said that drinking water problem had escalated in Siddarthanagar, K.C. Nagar, J.C. Nagar, Ittegegud and other areas in K.R. Constituency and added that despite Corporators requesting the officials concerned at Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW) to set right the problem, nothing has been done in this regard so far.

He further said that during yesterday's inspection of Melapura Pumping Station, water purification plants and water reservoir, it came to light that there was no documentation or record of the quantity of water that was being supplied and also residents being deprived of Cauvery water.

Continuing, Ramdas said that 223 MLD water is being pumped from Cauvery and Kabini rivers from five centres but only 123 to 125 MLD water is being billed and questioned where did the remaining 100 MLD water go? and alleged that there were no records for the 100 MLD water.

He further said that the Water Pumping Stations and Water Purification Plants have automatic Demineralised (DM) Water Pumps, which records the quantity of water pumped in one hour, supplied and the quantity of water pumped during power disruption. But unfortunately most of the DM pumps have become defunct since a year which gives rise to suspicion of water theft.

About 74 to 78 MLD water is being pumped at Melapura Water Pumping Station everyday, he said and added that there were three water pumps in working condition at the pumping station but only two is being used to pump water, while the third pump is kept as a stand-by.

As there is water problems in various places, instruction has been given to switch on the stand-by pump for six hours a day to fulfil the water requirements of city and added that there were 12 Wards in K.R. Constituency which are being supplied water through Melapura Pumping Station and during the inspection, it came to light that water was not being supplied correctly to the Wards in K.R. Constituency.

In this background, instruction has been given to supply three MLD water to all the 12 Wards in K.R. Constituency so that the short supply of drinking water to J.C. Nagar, K.C. Nagar, Siddarthanagar, Ittegegud and other areas would be fulfilled.

Corporators B.V. Manjunath and G. Roopa, VVWW Executive Engineer B. Harish, Assistant Executive Engineer Somashekarappa, Vinay Kumar and Channabasavegowda were present.

I am the trouble-shooter: Former CM

Mysuru, Oct.1 (MTY&DM)- Maintaining that he was the trouble-shooter in the Congress, former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah has said that this was the reason for his being appointed by the party as the Chairman of the Co-ordination Committee of the JD(S)-Congress Coalition Government.

Speaking to press persons at his residence in Ramakrishnanagar here yesterday, Siddharamaiah claimed that the Coalition Government would rule the State for five years and no Legislator of the Congress was making any effort to dislodge the Government.

Stating that the Government's loan-waiver scheme was widely acclaimed by the people, the former CM, who is an MLA from Badami, said that the Co-ordination Committee would meet only when it was found necessary.

Independent Corporators meet former CM

Earlier, a few independent Corporators met the former CM at his residence to discuss Mayor posts even as the Mayoral Poll schedule is yet to be announced.

The independent Corporators, who met Siddharamaiah, included Pailwan Srinivas and Shivakumar, who belonged to the camp of JD(S) rebel leader K. Harish Gowda and independent Corporator K.V. Sridhara, who was denied the Congress ticket.

The meeting assumes significance as the Congress is trying to shore up its numbers in order to bargain with the JD(S) for Mayor and Deputy Mayor posts.

The Congress has 19 Corporators and the JD(S) 18 in the 65-Member Civic Body and the Congress and JD(S) are working out a coalition in the MCC too.

Siddu goes shopping on DD Urs Road

Siddharamaiah, who arrived in city on Saturday, went on a shopping spree on D. Devaraj Urs Road Saturday night. Taking a break from politics, Siddharamaiah visited a shop and purchased jogging clothwear and footwear, it is learnt. The ex-CM was accompanied by his MLA son Dr. Yathindra.

'Be a girlfriend or have godfather for political career'

Tumakuru, Oct.1- Former Minister Leeladevi R. Prasad yesterday said that women should either have godfathers or become girlfriends to scale heights in politics. "I've seen all parties and leaders. They all are alike," she said at an interaction prog. here.

Leeladevi

"Though I had helped 8 leaders get tickets to contest Assembly polls, it took 40 years for me to make it to the Vidhana Soudha. When I wanted to contest from a Bengaluru constituency, I was denied the ticket. I was also told to search a constituency," she charged.

"Some men, who can't face women politically, indulge in character assassination. I had raised my voice seeking 33% reservation for women in politics when P.V. Narasimha Rao was the PM. However, it is still a dream," she said.

Good Samaritan Bill of Karnataka gets President's nod

Karnataka is the fifth State that reported highest number of road accidents

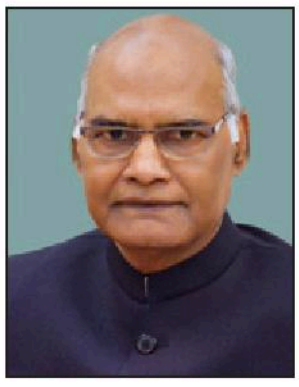
New Delhi, Oct.1- President Ramnath Kovind has given his nod to Karnataka's Good Samaritan Bill, the first of its kind in the country.

The Good Samaritan and Medical Professional (Protection and Regulation during Emergency Situations) Bill, 2016 which will give legal protection to the good Samaritans in Karnataka who help accident victims with emergency medical care within the 'golden hour.'

As per Home Ministry officials, the Legislation will give protection to good Samaritans who may be hesitant to lend a helping hand to accident victims, especially during the 'golden hour', fearing investigations and harassment at the hands of Police.

It was learnt that State Government had passed the Karnataka Good Samaritan and Medical Professional (Protection and Regulation during Emergency Situations) Bill, 2016 during the Belagavi Session of the State Legislature. The Bill aimed to provide protection to Good Samaritans and ensure quick medical aid for road accident victims and encourage people to offer first aid to victims without fear of legal wrangles.

Bystanders often refrain from helping due to the fear of legal and procedural hassles, now passing of this law aims to provide protection to Good Samaritans and ensure quick medical aid for road accident victims and encourage people to offer first aid to victims without fear of legal wrangles.



Ramnath Kovind

The 'golden hour' is the first hour following an accident which is considered most crucial, as the accident victim has to be rushed to hospital to stand a better chance at survival.

The Legislation covers the costs of "running around to Courts and Police Stations" and grants the "Samaritans" exemption from repeated attendance in Courts. It also makes it mandatory for all Government and private hospitals to give first aid to accident victims.

Mukhyamantri Santwana Harish Yojana

Karnataka is the first State in the country to launch Mukhyamantri Santwana Harish Yojana to provide free medical treatment to road accident victims for the first 48 hour at any hospital. This scheme was introduced by the State Government in February, 2016 when the Good Samaritan Bill was mooted in the State.

Harish

An official said that there were many instances when bystanders simply click photos or make videos of the victims without offering any help proactively. However, with the new law, there will be clear message that good Samaritans will not be harassed in any manner, the official said.

As per data, there were 4,80,652 accidents in the country in 2016 out of which 1,50,785 were killed. In the preceding year, a total of 1,46,133 people were killed out of 5,01,423 accidents reported in the country. Karnataka was the fifth State in the country that reported highest number of accident.

The law, which aims to encourage people to offer first-aid to victims without fear of harassment at the hands of Police, provides financial help to good Samaritans who help victims in a timely manner.

Deer picture was the inspiration for 'Uttarakhanda': Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa

Mysuru, Oct.1 (SBD&US)- "I accidentally came across a picture of a deer which inspired me to come out with my novel 'Uttarakhanda', revealed noted novelist Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa.

S.L. Bhyrappa

He was delivering the valedictory address at the seminar on 'Uttarakhanda' organised by Priyadarshana Samskruthika Vedike, Srirangapatna, at Sarada Vilas College Centenary Hall in Krishnamurthypuram here yesterday.

Explaining the incident, Bhyrappa said: "Six-years-ago when I was on a tour of England, I was staying at a B and B (Bed and Breakfast) facility where in my room was a very beautiful picture of a deer on which I had expressed appreciation with the owner of the B and B. While vacating, the owner handed over the picture neatly packed to me as a gift. On return to Mysuru, I hung that picture on the wall of my house. One day while gazing at the picture, I recalled the incident in Ramayana where Seeta was attracted towards a deer which she desired stubbornly. I wondered how Seeta could be so childish. I thought Seeta was probably craving to have a baby and seeing the fawn (baby deer), she could have desired to fondle that. I wove the story of 'Uttarakhanda' later."

Bhyrappa opined that Vedas were the foundation for spirituality and added that Valmiki wrote Ramayana to make people realise the meaning and importance of Vedas. He asserted that the epics should be viewed and understood with due regard for the benefits and customs prevalent in that era.

Wrong allegations go unpunished: Dr. Bhyrappa opined that people who level wrong allegations go unpunished in our country. He said that the rumours floated among people made Rama to desert Seeta in Ramayana. He added that rumours cannot be doused and hence snowballs easily.

He recalled that former Prime Minister late Morarji Desai had to step down as wrong allegations against the PM's son were hyped through the Media.

Referring to the Rafale deal, Dr. Bhyrappa said that AICC President Rahul Gandhi was accusing Prime Minister Narendra Modi of joining hands with Reliance Group and looting crores of rupees in the deal. He added that wrong allegations were forcing good administrators to step down. Similarly, he recalled that ISRO Scientist Nambi Narayanan too was harassed unduly through wrong allegations.

Cabinet expansion likely on Oct.3

Bengaluru, Oct.1 (KMS& DM)- Even as rumblings continue among the coalition partners, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) is likely to expand his Cabinet on Oct.3.

As advised by AICC President Rahul Gandhi, the CM is likely to induct six Ministers from the Congress. The CM is said to have cancelled his scheduled Chikkaballapur district tour on Oct.3 in order to expand his Ministry, by filling up the six vacant berths meant for the Congress party. Meanwhile, KPCC President Dinesh Gundu Rao has said that Kumaraswamy will expand the Cabinet by Oct.10.

With talks of Cabinet expansion gaining ground, Congress MLAs are lobbying hard to get Cabinet berths. The Congress is likely to ask the CM to drop Forest Minister R. Shankar, who was elected as an Independent and push for fresh faces, with Lok Sabha polls round the corner.

I once used to smoke four packs of cigarettes a day: Siddu

Mysuru, Oct.1 (PM&DM)- Claiming that he used to smoke four packs of cigarettes a day during his initial career, former CM Siddharamaiah has said that addictions can be ended by taking a firm decision. He was speaking at a cancer screening camp at Senate Bhavan in Manasagangothri here yesterday.

Regretting that people smoke despite the warning on cigarette packs which read 'Cigarette smoking is injurious to health,' Siddu said that after years of chain-smoking, he stopped smoking after taking a oath on Aug.17, 1987 never to smoke again.

Pointing out that his brand when he used to smoke was 'Wills', he said that he has become so averse to cigarette now that he cannot tolerate even the puff.

Woman murdered for dowry

Mandya, Oct.1 (Nagaiah& DM)- In a dowry death incident, a 28-year-old woman was allegedly hanged to death by her in-laws at Bookanakere in K.R. Pet taluk of Mandya late last night. The deceased has been identified as Ganashree, wife of one Ashok of Bokanakere.

Ganashree

Ganashree of Aralakuppe in Pandavapura taluk was married to Ashok of Bookanakere about eight years ago. But Ganashree was found hanging at her husband's house this morning.

Ganashree's parents, in a complaint lodged with K.R. Police, alleged that Ganashree's husband Ashok, father-in-law Nanjegowda, mother-in-law Jayamma and sister-in-law Asha had hanged Ganashree to death for not bringing more dowry.

CANADA Calling ...

By K. Vijaya Kumar
Former Jt. Director of Information & Publicity

Canadian Parliament welcomes visitors, but our Parliament?

DESTINATION CANADA

This was our sixth visit to Canada, the last one being exactly in Sept.2009, to our son and family who lives in Burlington close on the way to the world famous Niagara Falls. We were not able to visit places across this vast country during our earlier visits except spending some quality time with our two little (then) grand daughters.

This time our son planned to take us (me and my wife; my co-brother and wife too had accompanied) all around Canada which is the world's second largest country with a population of 3.55 crore — half of our Karnataka (6.77 crore). This should be kept in mind when we compare the quality of life of people between our two countries, India having a population of nearly 1.3 billion.

Visitors posing in front of the Parliament.

The sculptures of two women are erected in the large adjoining area of the Parliament. It shows how women were not given equal status and then how they fought for it holding a replica of a Journal which states: Women also are PERSONS.

Canadian Parliament welcomes visitors, but our Parliament?

Visit to the Parliament of Canada comes first in my mind. It is the Federal Legislature of Canada seated on Parliament Hill, an imposing 90-year-old tall structure, in Ottawa, the national capital. Interesting to note it consists of the Canadian Monarch (still the Queen of England) represented by a Viceroy, the Governor General and Upper House called the Senate and a Lower House known as House of Commons.

The visit is by tickets with a guided tour in small groups limited to four or five batches allotting time to wait for their turn. Of course, when the Parliament was not in session. To our luck it was a free day by passes as it was French Day and the briefings were in French by the guide. Anyway, going round the entire House was a different experience. The Library of the Parliament, indeed, attracts visitors.

I was curious to know about the formalities to visit our Parliament, of course, when it is not in Session. The website states: First to obtain an introduction letter from a Member of Parliament and submit to its Secretariat, who in turn sends it for Police verification of the jurisdiction of the visitor and so on !!! How strange it looks and who waits - where? The reason given: STRICT SECURITY, no further explanation !!!

Some more in my next.

This photo is the Senate in Session. They are numbered. Important No.1 is Speaker. No.2 is the striking object Mace, which symbolises the Senate's authority and when the Senate is sitting, it rests on the table pointing towards the Thrones. And No.3 on either side are Senators. Most notable No.6 depicted as Pages who are University students from across Canada, hired to provide support and assistance to Senators in the Chamber and in Committee Meetings. No.7 Press Gallery and 8 Public Gallery. The House of Commons is very similar to Senate. Another thing is one can find translation of French along with English as French is given equal status with English in Canada.

Farmers advised to take up medicinal plants cultivation

Huge demand for herbal medicines at National and Intl. Markets

Former CEO of National Medicinal Plant Board and Director of Ayush Karnataka, Meenakshi Negi speaking after inaugurating one-day workshop at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri in city this morning.

Mysuru, Oct.1 (PM&SR)- Former Joint Secretary in the Department of Health Research, Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare and former Head of Forest Force, Kerala Forest Departmnet, Dr. H. Nagesh Prabhu has called upon farmers to take up medicinal plants cultivation to enhance their farm income.

He was speaking at the one-day workshop on 'Strengthening Forward-Backward Linkages for Sustained Supply of Quality Medicinal Plants to Industry through Profitable Cultivation', organised by the Department of Botany, University of Mysore, Regional-Cum-Facilitation Centre, Southern Region, National Medicinal Plant Board (NMPB) at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri in city this morning.

He said medicinal plants can be a good source of income for farmers as there has been a resurgence of interest in traditional and alternative healthcare systems, most of which rely on herbs for medicine. There is a huge demand for medicinal plants which have therapeutic properties and health benefits to people at both National and International Markets, he said and added that medicinal plants are widely used in the production of herbal medicines and other forms of alternative medicine.

Hence, farmers should take up cultivation of medicinal plants instead of committing suicide due to price crash of farm products or other reasons. Cultivation of herbal plants fetches money and enhances their livelihood, Dr. Nagesh Prabhu opined.

In her inaugural address, former CEO of NMPB and Director of AYUSH Karnataka, Meenakshi Negi said, farmers were not coming forward to take up cultivation of medicinal plants due to lack of marketing, promotion and discouragement from the government. She stressed the need to ensure better marketing facility for farmers, besides connecting them with farmers and industries, encouragement from the government to extend the area of medicinal plants cultivation. The archaic forest laws are also preventing them from taking up cultivation of plants in forest areas of the country.

She said India is home to over 12,000 species of medicinal plants as per the reports of Union Ministry of Environment and Forests. About 70 percent of these plants are found in the tropical forests, spread across the Western and Eastern Ghats.

Expressing serious concern over depletion of several medicinal plants, she said uncontrolled extraction and collection of large quantities of plant materials, deforestation and land degradation due to increase in human and livestock population, many plant species were threatened with extinction.

Meenakshi Negi said India is the second largest exporter of medicinal plants in the world. It also imports several species of medicinal plants. Country's share in the world trade is currently comparatively low even though we have a rich tradition of herbal medicine. Hence there is tremendous opportunity waiting to be tapped from this sector.

Stating that there is a huge demand for herbal products both inside and outside the country, she said the growing interest in traditional herbal medicine will lead to further increase in the demand for medicinal plants and consequent loss of medicinal plant species.

Over 300 farmers and industry representatives from various districts took part in the workshop.

Acting Vice-Chancellor of University of Mysore Prof. Aisha M. Sheriff, HoD of Botany Dr. S. Leelavathi, NMPB-New Delhi Assistant Advisor Dr. N. Padmakumar, Regional Deputy Director - NMPB Southern Region, Kerala, Dr. N. Sasidharan and others were present.

Gastrointestinal cancer cured without surgery at Narayana Hospital

Mysuru, Oct.1 - A 50-year-old patient has been cured of Gastrointestinal Cancer without surgery at Narayana Multispeciality Hospital in Mysuru. A routine Endoscopy showed small nodules (a lump or swelling) in his stomach and after Biopsy, it was confirmed that the patient had Carcinoma — a type of cancer in the first stage that develops in the tissue lining of the organ. Thereafter, a CT scan confirmed the early stage of GI Cancer.

The team of doctors in the Department of Gastrointestinal Diseases led by Dr. A.K. Satheesh Rao, Consultant Gastroenterologist at Narayana Multispeciality Hospital, Mysuru, reassured the patient and his family that there was hope for a cure.

"ESD is an advanced endoscopic procedure used to remove gastrointestinal tumours that have not entered the muscle layer. ESD may be done in Esophagus (food pipe), stomach or colon," informed Dr. Rao.

Dr. A.K. Satheesh Rao

In the procedure performed on the patient, a long and narrow tube was passed through the throat to reach the lesion in the stomach and a fluid was injected into the submucosa to elevate the lesion. Thereafter, an electrosurgical knife with a high-frequency electrical current was used to cut the tumour tissue free from the intestinal wall followed by cutting away the tumour itself. The electrical current stops any active bleeding. The tissue is removed from the body using the endoscopic procedure without surgery and sent to the laboratory. "This procedure is very safe with lesser complications and reduced hospital stay," he said.

"With the development and widespread implementation of endoscopic techniques, such as chromoendoscopy and narrowband imaging, the diagnosis rates of patients with early gastric cancer have been increasing", observed Dr. Rao.

Endoscopic Submucosal Dissection (ESD) is a new technique performed for the first time in Mysuru at Narayana Hospital. The patient had to stay in the hospital only for two days and discharged after removal of the tumour. On his way to recovery, the patient visited the hospital after two months to get another Endoscopy, which revealed that the tumour was not existing.

Amit Singh, IPS, Superintendent of Police (SP), Mysuru District, in his inaugural address called upon workers to avoid injuries at workplace and to ensure no accidents at workplace. However knowledge of first-aid is essential to save the lives of others both at workplace and outside.

WORD OF THE DAY

Viva voce

Pronunciation: vye-vuh-VOH-see
Meaning: By word of mouth: orally.
Origin: Viva voce derives from Medieval Latin, where it translates literally as "with the living voice." In English it occurs in contexts, such as voting, in which something is done aloud for all to hear. Votes in Congress, for example, are done viva voce—members announce their votes by calling out "yea" or "nay." While the phrase was first used in English as an adverb in the 16th century, it can also appear as an adjective (as in "a viva voce examination") or a noun (where it refers to an examination conducted orally).
Example: A viva voce project was assigned to the students, so the teacher allowed them to explain their research orally.

THE ODD WORD

Bird-of-paradise

Strelitzia is a genus of five species of perennial plants, native to South Africa, it is commonly called Bird-of-paradise.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A fool's paradise

Meaning: A state of happiness based on false hope.
Origin: This is an early phrase, first recorded in the Paston Letters, 1462: "I wold not be in a folis paradyce." Shakespeare then used the same phrase in his very popular work 'Romeo and Juliet' in the year 1592, Nurse: "Now, afore God, I am so vexed, that every part about me quivers. Scurvy knave! Pray you, sir, a word: and as I told you, my young lady bade me inquire you out; what she bade me say, I will keep to myself: but first let me tell ye, if ye should lead her into a fool's paradise".
Example: The money was never going to be deposited by him. He kept promising her and let her stay in that fool's paradise for way too long.

QUOTE BOX

A fool's paradise is a wise man's hell.
